Indicators of Effectiveness - Mission Fulfillment

Indicator Count by Status

Score	Description
✓	Meets or exceeds target; continuous effort needed to maintain acceptable performance or improve further. Results are at 100% or above target.
⚠	Difference between the target and the result is $\leq 20\%$; continued monitoring and effort needed to reach target. Results are within 80-99% of target and are considered to be within an acceptable range.
✗	Difference between the target and the result is $> 20\%$ and immediate action is required. Results are $< 80\%$ of the target and are not considered to be within an acceptable range.

As part of the ongoing cycle of continuous improvement, OHSU defines its mission fulfillment as achieving the expectation of its indicators for institutional effectiveness, student learning, and student achievement.

Mission fulfillment for OHSU is then determined by whether the combined total of the indicators that have exceeded or are within an acceptable range of the target is $\geq 90\%$. OHSU is meeting its definition of mission fulfillment as all but one of its indicators of effectiveness are being achieved or are within the acceptable threshold.

INDICATOR	Institutional Indicators of Effectiveness - IIE 1.2
DETAILS	As a result of their involvement in OnTrack OHSU! High School participants will report increases in interest and engagement in a Health or Science field.
OBJECTIVE	Develop student pathways to meet the health needs of an increasingly diverse Oregon and nation.
COMMENTS	The pathway program OnTrack OHSU! works with Oregon middle and high schools to increase the number of students from underrepresented minority backgrounds in the health sciences and to increase students' engagement in the sciences. OnTrack OHSU! administers an annual effectiveness survey to assess the impact of the program on its participants and to improve program engagement. From 2013 to 2017, OnTrack OHSU! surveyed student participants on “identity and resilience” in the STEM fields. OBJECTIVE	Produce quality graduates in health professions, scientists, engineers and managers who meet appropriate industry standards.
COMMENTS	OHSU tracks and compares the percentage of M.D. graduates who match to a medical residency program. This student achievement and persistence metric tracks the success of M.D. students in continuing their medical training. Run by the National Resident Matching Program, fourth-year medical students learn whether and where they will spend the next three to five years as resident-physicians, persist with their professional pursuits, and where some of them will ultimately stay on to practice medicine. Indicators

This report disaggregates the historical performance of the following indicators:

Indicator	Details
SAI 1.1	Percentage of entering degree/certificate seeking students that are retained to their second year.
SAI 1.2	Percentage of all degree/certificate seeking students that persist from Fall to Spring.
SAI 1.3	Percentage of students completing degrees/certificates within 100% of usual program time.
SAI 1.4	Percentage of graduating respondents reporting post-graduation success (post-graduation employment or post-graduation study).

Disaggregated Groups

Group	Details
Age Group	Age ranges grouped in alignment with the ranges reported in IPEDS. Each student's age is calculated by comparing their date of birth to the date of the start of their admission term.
Degree Type	Type of degree offered by the program to which the student is admitted.
Expected Family Contribution	EFC as determined through the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Pell Eligibility is evaluated by comparing EFC to eligibility criteria by year of admission. EFC data is not available in the Student Information System until the 2017-18 admit year.
Gender	Male, Female, and Non-Reported options for gender.
Race/ Ethnicity	Race and Ethnicity are defined by the IPEDS categorization. See here for more details about the IPEDS methodology. OHSU's disaggregation further differentiates these categories, defining Underrepresented Minorities as those students who identify themselves as at least one of the following: Korean, Vietnamese, American Indian or Alaska Native, Black or African American, Hispanic, Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander.
School	School/College of the program to which the student is admitted.

Retention Disaggregated

Definition

Retention is defined as the percent of eligible students admitted in a given year who are retained for their second year. Students are considered eligible if:

- They are admitted as a degree/certificate-seeking student to a program that is longer than one year
- They attempt at least 1 credit in their first full year (starting from their admission term)

They did not graduate within their first year.

Students are considered retained if:

- They attempt at least 1 credit after being admitted.
- They have been enrolled for at least as long as their program's official length.

Students are considered to have completed on-time if:

- They graduate within 100% of their program's official length.
- They received a degree of the same type as the degree to which they were admitted.

Percentage Of Minority Student Enrollment

Source: IPEDS: Fall Enrollment - Race/ethnicity, gender, attendance status, and level of student.

The percent of students enrolled in the Fall whose Race/Ethnicity category as reported to IPEDS includes the following:

Asian, American Indian or Alaska Native, Black or African American, Hispanic, Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander, Two or More Races.

Disaggregated IPEDS enrollment data is only available for minority categories. Data reported here are different than that reported for IIE 1.1, where OHSU data differentiate underrepresented race/ethnicity subgroups. All data here also follow IPEDS calculation conventions.

Percentage Of Minority Full-Time Instructional Staff

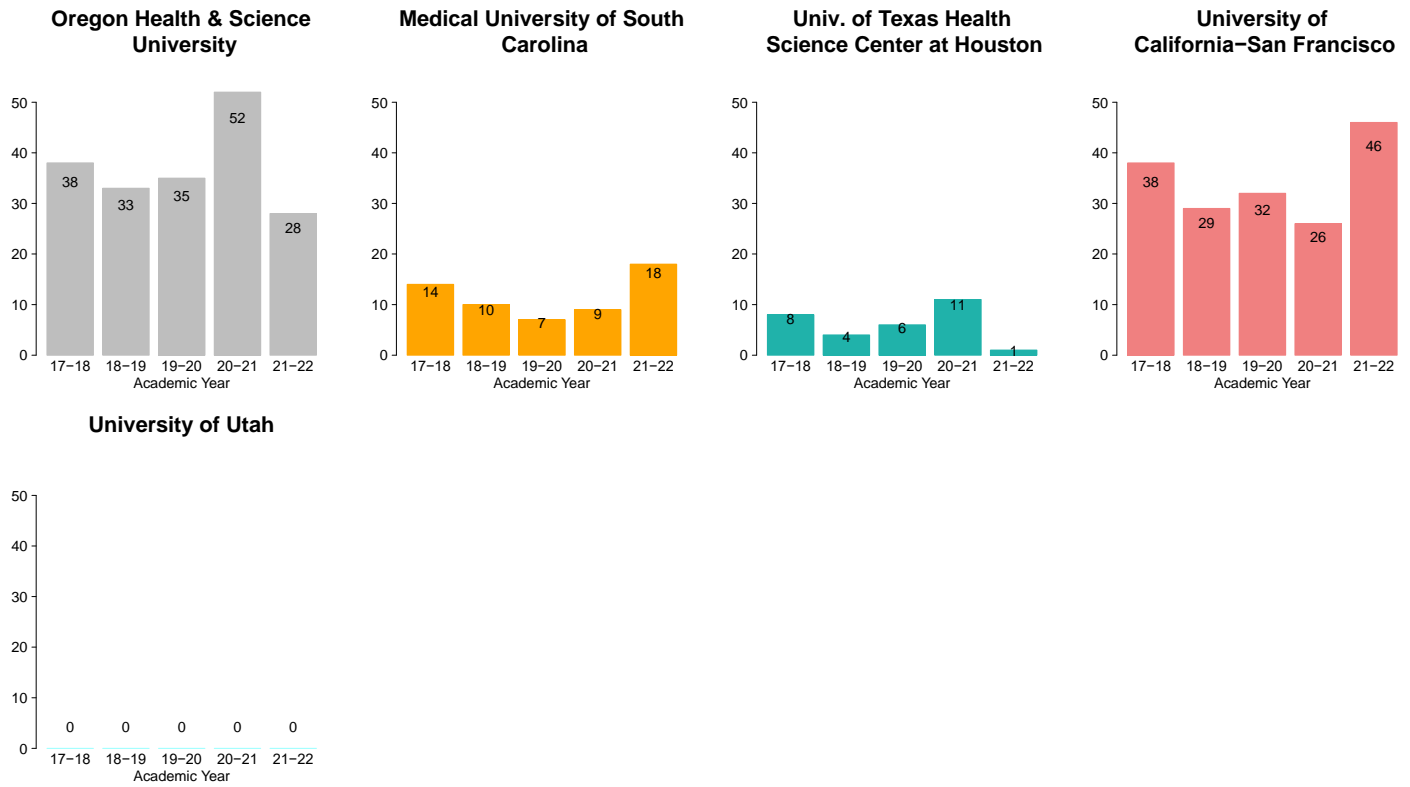

Source: IPEDS: Human Resources - Full-time instructional staff.

The number of full-time instructional staff as of Nov. 1 of a given year.

Disaggregated IPEDS instructional staff data is only available for full-time staff. OHSU internal data can be disaggregated for all staff.

Number Of Degrees And Certificates Awarded In Clinical And Translational Research Training

Source: IPEDS: Completions - Awards/degrees conferred by program.

The number of degrees/certificates awarded in the Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) categories "Medical Clinical Sciences/Graduate Medical Studies" and "Health Professions and Related Clinical Sciences, Other". The University of Utah does not offer degrees in these CIP categories.

Small differences in IPEDS reported number of degrees/certificates awarded and OHSU's internal reported numbers arise based on the difference of reporting by academic year versus reporting by date.

NIH Total Sponsored Project Revenue

Source: NIH RePORT: NIH Awards by Location & Organization

To expand OHSU's prominence as a research university, OHSU compares its total sponsored project revenue to its peer institutions through the National Institutes of Health (NIH) award data pulled annually from the NIH Research Portfolio Online Reporting Tools (NIH RePORT).

Number Of New Inventions Disclosed In A Given Year

Source: Association of University Technology Managers.

OHSU has identified peer institutions for accreditation purposes which include the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston and University of California-San Francisco. However, the Association of University Technology Managers (AUTM) does not disaggregate invention disclosures for these institutions but instead reports the combined results for their entire university systems (University of Texas System and California University System), so these institutions have been omitted from the peer comparators.

Percentage Of M.D. Graduates Initially Matching To A Residency Program

Source: NRMP

OHSU tracks the pre-Supplemental Offer and Acceptance Program (pre-SOAP) percentage of M.D. graduates initially matching to a residency program and compares that to the national average as a way to demonstrate student achievement and student success. The comparison uses pre-SOAP rates as the national average rates are only available for the pre-SOAP, which represents the percent of initial matched applicants in relation to the total active applicants who participate in the National Residency Match Program (NRMP).

OHSU internal data can reflect post-Supplemental Offer and Acceptance Program (post-SOAP) rates, which provides for the percentage of all OHSU M.D. graduates matching to a residency program.
